Sessions for Spartanburg County, says:

This is the first time Judge Orr has presided at our court, and though the reputation which preceded him had excited the highest expectations, we are sure from the expressions we have heard from members of the bar and the people, there has been no disappointment. It is truly gratifying to witness the patience, fairness and courtesy, which is uniformly manifested towards everybody who has dealings with the court, as well as the learning and ability which characterize its judgments. We wish that everybody in the district could have heard the impressive lecture of his Honor to convicts before passing sentences. The picture he drew of penitentiary life was such as winkid certainly prove a warning to any man who has not become so hardened in crime as to be perfectly reckless of life, liberty or happiness. who has not become so hardened in crime as to be perfectly reckless of life, liberty or happiness. The Inquiry Docket was called and disposed of on Monday afternoon. The herculean task of removing the accumulated mass of litigation from our Angean Issue Docket, was essayed by his Honor on Tuesday morning. We have no doubt but the Alphean waters of a strong will and sound judgment will render the labor much easier of accomplishment than it appears to be.

THE IRON STEAM LINE TO NEW YORK .- This genial season of the year invites travel by sea, and the finely appointed passenger steamer South Carolina, Captain Adkins, sailing at tive o'clock, gathered a goodly company yesterday afternoon on her two hundred and sixty-five feet of promenade deck. A number came up from Florida by the steamer City Point, and had the advantage of a day for sight seeing and visiting in Charleston. Others were from the distant West, while Columbia, Aiken and Augusta sent each their delegations. The hour of departure of both the "Tennessee" and "South Carolina" is fixed without regard to the ebb and flow of the tides. They have no acquaintance with Charleston bar, and go in and out when they choose. enables the agents to fix the hour of sailing late enough in the afternoon, say five o'clock during April, to enable passengers from and above Columbia, from Aiken, Augusta and the West to take the day trains on the South Carolina Railroad, and reach Charleston in ample time for these splendid mammoth steamers.

South Carolina Sunday School Convention.

To Superintendents, Teachers and Friends of Sunday Schools in the State of South Carolina: DEAR BRETHREN-At a meeting held in the City of Charleston, on Monday evening, March 28, composed of representatives from the various Sunday Schools, of all denominations in this city, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

adopted:

Resolved, That a convention of Sunday schoo superintendents, teachers and friends in the State of South Carolina be held in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 12th, 13th and 14th of May next, for the purpose of devising wars and means for the advancement of the Sanday school cause throughout the State, and to confer together relative to the best modes of conducting Sunday schools and increasing their usefulness.

Resolved, That invitations be extended to all persons interested in the cause of Sunday schools, in every part of the State, to attend said convention, and that arrangements be made for their entertainment in this city, and transportation if

In accordance with the above resolutions, we hereby extend to you an invitation to attend the convention, and ald us in our efforts in the cause of Sunday schools. The people of Charleston will be prepared to receive and entertain at their homes all who may attend, and have every reason to believe that the railroad lines will return delegates to their homes free of charge. No efforts will be spared to make your visit a pleas ant, and we hope a profitable one to us all, and that we may not only have our own spirits re-freshed, but that by Gods' grace, when this convention closes such an influence may be spread among the churches and Sabbath schools as shall result in a gracious revival of religion that it will spread not only in this city, but through the length and breadth of the State.

Will you not spare the time necessary and meet with us here, and give us your advice and experience in the glorious work we all love so much? It is the cause of Jesus, for Him and the upbuilding of His kingdom in the hearts of the children of our land, we labor.

There is much to be learned, and it is only by a free interchange of opinions and experiences that the best modes can be arrived at, and we feel assured very much good will result from the assembling together of such a convention. It is important that we should know at once the names of all persons who will attend the convention, in order that our arrangements may be made for their entertainment, &c., in due time. Please, therefore, write us immediately names in the State of South Carolina, of whatever religi-of all delegates in your school who will accede to this call. Our desire is that every Sunday-school ous denomination it may be, have one or more re presentatives in the convention. If the pastors of churches or superintendents cannot come, let them send one or more teachers or friends of the school, so that reports may be received from eve ry part of the State.

We would also request you to extend this notice as widely as possible. We may not be able to procure the addresses of all friends of Sunday schools in time, therefore should be glad if you would have the above notice extended to all schools in your vicinity who may be overlooked by us. By another year we hope to have every. thing so systematized as to be able to reach every Sunday school in the State.

Address any of the following corresponding committee : C. N. Averill, Presbyterian Church; P P Elford, Episcopal Church; George W. Mclver, Baptist Church; S. A. Nelson, Methodist Church; R. G. Ch'so'm, Lutheran Church. Charleston, March 31, 1870.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

List of those Distinguished in their Classes.

Yesterday the annual examination of the pupils of the public schhols in the city took place in the respective school buildings, the rooms of which had been tastefully decorated. At each school were the parents and friends of the pupils, who listened with unfingging interest to the recitations, and were highly gratified at the efficiency displayed. Charleston has reason to be proud of her free schools. There is not now in the South certainly, and perhaps in the United States, a more complete system of public schools than ours. To Messrs. C. G. Memminger, chairman; W. J. Bennett, Henry Buist, P. J. Coogan, C. M. Farman, W. S. Henerey, Benjamin Lucas, W. D. Porter, W. A. Pringle, Frederick Richards, John Russell, F. A. Sawyer, C. H. Simonton, E. Montague

Of this school Mr. Henry P. Archer is principal. Some time ago Mr. Chadwick offered a gold medal as a prize for the best orator, and Mr. Devereux a case of drawing instruments as a prize for the best drawing. This stimulated the boys of this school to additional efforts, and the oratorical trial yesterday was most interesting, and the specimens of drawing showed considerable skill. To Master Henry Moroso was awarded the medal, and to Master John B. Shirer the case of instruments. Hon. N. R. Middleton presented the former, and Hon. C. G. Memminger the latter. The Meeting Street School, Of which Mrs. Isabella Blair is principal, has about three hundred and sixteen pupils, whose studies are confined to the primary branches. The promptness of the little ones in correctly responding to the various questions propounded to them during the examinations, showed a remarkable degree of proficiency. As soon as the pupils of this school are sufficiently advanced, they are transferred to the Lormal School. Yesterday Mr. W. S. Henerey, school commissioner, attended this school, congratulated the teachers

The Colored School, on Morris street, has twen'y teachers and eight hundred and eighty pupils. Since last year there has been a decided improvement in the condition of the school, and we doubt if there is anywhere a more successfully conducted school for the color ed people. It is organized upon the same plan with the white schools, the teachers receive the same salaries, and the same rewards and punishments are applied to the scholars. T. W. Glen, A. M., is principal, and A. Doty, Jr., vice-principal. After the examination yesterday, Henry Buist, Esq., made complimentary speeches to zaar.

Hunted Down-The Second Performance It is difficult to make any play, whatever its merits, run more than one night in Charleston: yet "Hunted Down" drew to its second performance as good a house as that which welcomed its first appearance on the boards. The play had been talked about far and near. An ample sketch of the plot, printed in these columns, had whetted the public appetite, and as a change from the long season of batteos and burlesque, it was felt that a stirring domestic drama could not fail of appreciation.

The play, in its broad outlines, was the same as on the first night, but the wheels moved more easily, and a familiarity with the stage enabled the company to work with still better effect. Miss Laura Keene (Mary Leigh) was faultless in her idea and execution of a trying character, and the effect produced upon the audience was shown by the moisture of bright eyes and the vigorous wavings of the white flags of the tender moiety of humanity. The play is, in truth, an affecting one, and last night it was even painful in its pathetic truth. Mr. Stuart (DeWillidoff) acted with great care.

He might be set down as a perfect villain-a model rogue, whose claws are sheathed in velvet. Mr. Mordaunt (John Leigh) was both unaffected and earnest. The character follows in the main line of John Wildmay in "Still Waters Run Deep," and the audience did not make the mistake of supposing that deep passion and firm resolve are incompatible with quiet words and undemonstrative conduct.

Master Marden, (Willie Leigh) was entrusted with a highly important part, and performed it with both spirit and discretion.

The dialogue between John Smith (Mr. McNulty) and Jeemes Jenkins, (Mr. Hawk,) is no more necessary to the play than the moon is to green cheese. It is pure padding, but its intense comicality brought down the house.

To-night the performance will be for the benefit of Miss Laura Keene, when will be given "Two can Play at that Game" and "She Stoom to Con-

Dramatic Notes. Mr. J. S. Clarke will commence his engagement at Booth's Theatre on the 18th of April. A Mobile composer has written an opera called "The Czar's Revenge," and a local paper says it 'resembles one of Beethoven's symphonies." Mr. Feehter is now playing at Philadelphia, and cial favorite. That clever acter, Mr. Bangs, travels with him. Mile. Carlotta Patti had her eye scratched by a poodle-dog, with which she was playing last Friday in Washington, and the ocular member was so badly inflamed that "her farewell con cert" was postponed in consequence. A new version of "Rip Van Winkle," by Robert McWade, has been produced at Wall's Opera House, Washington. In this version, the dog Schneider, appears on the stage, appearing in the second act, where Rip goes to sleep, as on the mountains, chained to a small sapling. When the curtain rises on the third act, and Rip awakens from his twenty years' sleep, he finds the oung tree grown to a massive oak, and the skeleton of the dog hanging from one of the branches.

Photographs have been sent to this country of he large picture of Hamlet in the Royal Gallery at Copenhagen. The figure is that of a wellformed and apparently tall young man, with light and very long hair, a beard much resembling that of Shakespeare, evidently an "orange tawny beard." and a face of half-inquiring thoughtfulness. He is clad in a close tunic, with sleeves to the wrists, over which is apparently a coat of mail, reaching to the thighs. His boots, reaching to the ankle only, are turned up at the toes, and trimmed at the top with fur. There is broad lace collar around his neck, and a ribbon with a locket-probably his father's portraitover all, but thrown back freely from the neck is my "inky cloak." The figure is standing, the right hand resting on his helmet, which is on a table, the left on his sword, the point of which is on the floor.

Courses Since the first of January last, eaven hundred and thirty-five tons of crude phos phate have been shipped from this port to England-valued at $4450.

Mesars. Riccke & Schachte have at their commission house a curiosity in the shape of a shoulder of bacon with another perfect shoulder growing out of the top of it. Dr. Henry M. Bruns has removed his residence and school to the north side of Beaufain street, one door west of Pitt. The Mayor yesterday imposed fines to the amount of eleven dollars. The ship R. C. Winthrop, which cleared day before vesterday, has a cargo of cotton, corn, rost rice and cotton seed, valued at $280,583.

This is "April fools' day."

BUSINESS NOTICES. WE WOULD call attention to the advertisement of Mr. J. N. Robson, agent of the Pacific Guano Company, stating that he has received a small supply of that valuable fertilizer, and is prepared to fill orders to a limited extent. SEE advertisement of Carroll's Cotton Planter in another part of to-day's paper. mch31 6

THE attention of business men is again called to the new style of awning now exhibited opposite the Postomee. It certainly will supersede everything of the kind now in use. For neatness, convenience and durability, it evidently has no equal. Is there not some one in Charleston with energy and means willing to take hold of this valuable improvement and dress the city with these beautiful awnings?
